Message Body:

I'm an American citizen living in Belgium but with substantial banking account in the US. I am considering "investing" in Ripple and would be buying in, so to speak, with US dollars, either in my US account or my Belgian account, but preferably my US account. I see I need to buy XRP, which seems to offer a number of possible choices, but it's not clear to me what choice I should make, meaning the most secure, or how I go about that. Can you give me guidance as I do not want to surf all the options. Thank you, [REDACTED]
